

THE MOTION

This Club Believes that

Indians should sacrifice public festival celebrations abroad to protect India's global image

MARK WHERE YOU STAND, NOW AND ON THE WAY OUT CELEBRATE IN PUBLIC ☐ ☐ ☐ ☒ ☐ ☐ ☐ HOLD BACK

WHAT THE WORDS MEAN

PUBLIC FESTIVAL CELEBRATIONS

Celebrations held in shared public space: processions, immersions in rivers, fireworks in the street, stages in squares. Not worship at home or inside a temple.

SACRIFICE

To give up willingly. The motion asks Indians abroad to choose restraint. It does not ask any host country to ban anything.

INDIA'S GLOBAL IMAGE

How India and Indians are seen abroad by people who have never been there: in the press, online, and in politics, including debates about visas and immigration.

THE REAL DISAGREEMENT

BOTH SIDES AGREE

Clips of Indian festivals abroad travel fast, some draw real complaints about noise, litter or safety, and the backlash online has grown. Nobody argues the host country's laws should be ignored.

THEY SPLIT ON

Do Indians abroad owe it to the country to stop celebrating in public, or does asking them to hide do more harm to India's image, and to them?

WHERE EACH SIDE STARTS

FOR THE MOTION

A few viral clips shape how millions see Indians, and those views turn into votes and visa rules. Taking the festival indoors is a small price for everyone who carries the passport.

AGAINST

Other communities celebrate in public too. The image problem is prejudice, and hiding feeds it. Indians abroad owe their neighbours good manners, not their festivals.

TAKING THE FLOOR

- 1 Write it down before you raise your hand. If it does not fit in one sentence, it is not ready.
- 2 One question at a time, put to the room and not to one person. If you have several, pick the best.
- 3 Sharp and specific. The best questions are not opinions in disguise. They are ones the other side has to answer.
- 4 No anecdotes. We are stress-testing arguments, not swapping experiences. If it opens with "I once knew someone who", hold it.
- 5 A warning at sixty seconds, a hard cutoff at ninety. The buzzer is not a suggestion.

WRITE IT DOWN FIRST

Draft while you listen. One sentence each, and if it does not fit on the line it is not ready.

1 _____

2 _____

THE ONE YOU WILL ASK

Pick the best of them. One question, put to the room.
