

THE MOTION

This Club Believes that

Migrants to Bengaluru have the right to reshape the city's culture, rather than merely adapt to it

MARK WHERE YOU STAND, NOW AND ON THE WAY OUT ADAPT TO IT ☐ ☐ ☐ ☒ ☐ ☐ ☐ RESHAPE IT

WHAT THE WORDS MEAN

MIGRANTS

Anyone who moved here and lives here now, from another state or another country, last year or thirty years ago. Not a legal category, and not about any one region.

THE CITY'S CULTURE

The lived, shared things: the language on the street and in shops, food, festivals, how neighbours behave, and what the city expects of people in it. Not official policy.

THE RIGHT TO RESHAPE

To change what the culture is by living in it, as of right, rather than only fitting into it. That includes not taking up what is here. Entitlement, not prediction: the city changes either way.

THE REAL DISAGREEMENT

BOTH SIDES AGREE

Bengaluru accommodates people who move here more than most Indian cities do: you can live and work here for years without Kannada and manage. A Bengalese moving elsewhere could not expect the same.

THEY SPLIT ON

Does paying into a city entitle you to live in it by your own norms, or does joining a place oblige you to meet it on its terms?

WHERE EACH SIDE STARTS

FOR THE MOTION

You do not check your language and habits at the city limit. People work here, pay for it and raise families here, and belonging cannot be made conditional on giving up what you brought.

AGAINST

What the city extends to newcomers is a courtesy, not something they are owed. Joining a place carries an obligation to meet it partway, and a city where only one side ever bends is not shared either.

YOUR CASE

Four or five points, one line each, in your own words. On stage you take them one at a time and elaborate, so write the trigger and not the speech.

HOW TO DO THIS

BEFORE YOU SPEAK

Write your four strongest points on the front, one line each. Not a speech, just what will remind you of one.

ON STAGE

Take them one at a time and elaborate. A couple of minutes, so roughly thirty seconds a point.

IN THE REBUTTAL

Write down the claim the other side actually made, then answer that one, not the one you wish they had made.

THE ORDER

8 Open floor
