

THE MOTION

This Club Believes that

Bengaluru needs to burst its tech bubble

MARK WHERE YOU STAND, NOW AND ON THE WAY OUT

BUILD UP TO IT

LET THE AIR OUT

WHAT THE WORDS MEAN

TECH BUBBLE

What forms when investment floods tech companies and startups and pushes salaries far past what the city used to pay. Those salaries reset the rest: rents climb, travel and daily costs follow, and buying property moves out of reach.

BURST

To deliberately shrink it rather than wait for it to deflate on its own. Take it as given that the government has the means: tonight is not about whether it can be done, or how, but whether it should be.

NEEDS TO

The motion asserts necessity. Nothing here grants it. What the room is judging is whether bursting would leave the city and the people in it better off, or worse.

THE REAL DISAGREEMENT

BOTH SIDES AGREE

Both sides accept that the economy has grown faster than the city can keep up with. Traffic that does not move, water that runs out, and a cost of living climbing faster than most pay. Nobody argues this is fine.

THEY SPLIT ON

Whether the answer is to slow that growth and push it to other cities, buying time to fix water, roads and housing, at the cost of the wages and opportunities people here live on.

WHERE EACH SIDE STARTS

FOR THE MOTION

Slow the growth and send it elsewhere, and the city buys time to fix water, roads and housing. Wages and opportunities fall, but the people who stay get somewhere liveable.

AGAINST

The people already here pay for it, in what they earn and in what they can build. Firms lose the clients that kept them, drivers lose their riders, founders lose their funding, and salaries fall with all of it.

TAKING THE FLOOR

- 1 Write it down before you raise your hand. If it does not fit in one sentence, it is not ready.
- 2 One question at a time, put to the room and not to one person. If you have several, pick the best.
- 3 Sharp and specific. The best questions are not opinions in disguise. They are ones the other side has to answer.
- 4 No anecdotes. We are stress-testing arguments, not swapping experiences. If it opens with "I once knew someone who", hold it.
- 5 A warning at sixty seconds, a hard cutoff at ninety. The buzzer is not a suggestion.

WRITE IT DOWN FIRST

Draft while you listen. One sentence each, and if it does not fit on the line it is not ready.

THE ONE YOU WILL ASK

Pick the best of them. One question, put to the room.
